Crucial Game at Island City Park.

Game the Outcome of Labor Day celved by a ball player. Wrangle and Is Played for a Purse of $100 a Side.

The Germans and the allies met in sanguinary conflict on neutral soil yesterday, and the former inflicted a decisive defeat and went home with a substantial war indemnity.

To put it in other words, Buffalo defeated Port Byron in a red hot game of baseball at the Island City park. the contest being played for a purse of $100 a side. Probably there was a in the deal somewhere, too.

It was one of the best and most spirited amateur conflicts staged hereabout this season, and there was a reason for it. Labor day the two nines clashed in the rain at Buffalo, and after four innings the visitors retired from the field, claiming that the rules of civilized warfare had been violated. Subsequently it was agreed to have it Davenport was favored. However, it was learned Saturday afternoon that the Three-Eye park in that city would and Pete Lister was engaged as um-

The contest drew a fair attendance made up almost entirely of partisans, and the rooting was fully up to league standard.

There was little to choose between the two teams except that Benschoff. pitching for Buffalo, had the edge on Lee, the hurler for Port Byron, though the latter had the larger strike-out list. Buffalo amassed three in the first inning, and it was a formidable lead. A few safe swats and some erratic work in the field did the business. Port Byron came back with two in the GEORGES CARPENTIER third, gathered as a result of a threebagger by Catcher Smith, who reached up over his head after a fast one and smashed it clear out into the northwest corner of the lot.
